Report on "Chocolate making for prospective entrepreneurs"

2016-2017

MACFAST always extended a helping hand to promote entrepreneurship in the small-scale food industry. With this motive, the School of Biosciences has been organizing different hands-on training programs related to cake baking and chocolate making under the coordination of Mr. Biju Dharmapalan. The training sessions were handled by Mrs. Pinchu Elizabeth Thomas. The programs are mainly aimed at students, businessmen, housewives, entrepreneurs, retired persons, and anyone with a passion for food making and baking. Our students were also a part of this program and assisted the coordinator and resource person right from program organization to volunteering and helping the participants. In 2016-2017, four training sections were conducted and the date of conduct and no of participants in each session are listed below.

Workshop on "Cake making for prospective entrepreneurs"

15-16 of December, 2016

The cake business in India has witnessed massive growth over the last few years due to the increased demand from consumers, the burgeoning cafe-culture and of course, social media. Home-based baking, in particular, has been taken up by a huge number of women entrepreneurs thanks to these reasons. There are many initiatives which are also being taken by the Government of India, which has further encouraged them to pursue their baking dreams. Not just women, quite a few men are also taking up home baking as a profession.

MACFAST has successfully conducted training programmes on Cake making in this regard. A two day training program on cake making, for prospective entrepreneurs was conducted on 15 and 16th of December, 2016. The coordinator of the program was Mrs. Pinchu Elizabeth Thomas and the main sessions were handled by her. The registration was handled by Mr. Biju Dharmapalan, School of Biosciences and 2 students of the department functioned as the programme volunteers. A total of 7 participants attended the training programme.

Agenda 21 of the Biodiversity Convention is intended in improving the conservation, sustainable use, and equitable sharing of benefits derived from the utilization of biological diversity in general of biodiversity. With the aim of supporting the goal put forward by the Biodiversity Convention, a science popularization program focussing on environment education was conducted by MACFAST college in the year July 2016- March 2017 under the funding of Kerala State Council for Science, Technology and Environment (KSCSTE). Invitations were sent to various schools in Pathanamthitta district for their participation and 22 schools accepted the invitation and communicated their willingness to participate in the program. A total of 829 students from class 6-8 participated in the program. The lesson plan modules and code of conduct was developed by Dr. S. Seeni (Principal Investigator). PI was assisted by four Co-Pls from the School of Biosciences. 3-6 student volunteers were also randomly selected from MACFAST college to assist the PI for each school. Co-Pls and student volunteers helped the PI in conveying the environmental message correctly to the students and teachers. The training included both indoor and outdoor activities. The games included in the modules are listed below

- Photosynthesis
- Island biodiversity game
- Food web game
- Seed survival race
- Biological Bazaar
- Successful city
- Debate on Waste management
- Biodiversity and development card game

Students from 6th to 8th standard were selected because of their playfulness, innocence, curiosity, keen learning attitude, and questioning nature. Students actively participated in the program and they also completed the simple assignments given to them on time. The program was highly appreciated and many of the students wanted us to organize such programs regularly in their schools and also suggested that we include poems and songs in the extra-curricular activities.
